My name is Frances. I live on the farm and I have a lot of animals chasing and playing with me. I think they are jealous of my beautiful self.

My major crush is Deac, he is a handsome donkey. Me and my sister, Olivia, compete for his attention.

I like to smell things. Anytime anyone new stops by the farm I go and smell them. I think my abilities impress Deac.

I don't think Olivia is good for Deac. She shows too much skin in her bikini. I don't think he likes that.

My nose sweats a lot but I try and wipe it off in the grass.

My sister and I had an eating contest once. We both ate too much and got sick.

When it gets cold outside I like to root down in a pile of hay. The goats always find me when it's dinner time, for they eat away the hay. I then get cold and have to move to another pile!

I like to be scratched under my chin, it feels so good.

I like to click and squeak my teeth, especially when someone I like is around. If you are visiting and here me squeaking it means I like you!

My hair is very wiry, but you can pet me nonetheless, I so like to be scratched for my skin gets a little dry and it itches. Sometimes I find some mud to roll around in and it cools me off and keeps me from itching. It's like being at a spa.

Well, I'm off to find a pile of hay to nest down in until those hungry goats come around.
