Ozzie

So if you've heard I'm the stubborn one, well, I'm here to set the record straight, I'm just not so. I like things my way and I'm willing to push just a little to get them my way, nothing wrong with that I just know how it should be!

I, too protect the cows and at times have to give a motivational speech to Jack on the proper techniques. Sometimes I have to wear him down before he'll listen. It's great exercise for me and keeps all of us lean and mean!

And if you heard I nibbled on a kid, well I did and I'm not apologizing. That kid was stubborn, had been stubborn for some time during our therapy time and he continued to be hardheaded and I had enough so I just nibbled on him to give him a dose of his own medicine. Sometimes you just have to give a little extra nudge to get what you want. Hmm, now that kid works with Charmer, that old bat loves attention from anyone!
